Half Dozen Seek Authority Vacancy

There are now six candidates seeking election to a three year term on the Arlington Housing Authority. Paul E. Cantrell, 3 Stevens ter., took out papers this week.

Others who jumped into the race previously include James Coffey, Christopher Cammarata, Eugene Cancelliere, John Hogan and Aloysius Weismann.

Incumbent Arthur Coughlin has taken out papers seeking re-election to a three year term on the School Committee.

Three others also seek election to the three seats on the School Committee this fall.

Attorney Thomas Kenna took out papers early last month while incumbent Dr. Mary K. Carter and candidate Dr. Paul Burke announced their candidacies last week.

The third incumbent Dr.

Richard Baker, who has served the Town for ten years announced last year that he will not seek re-election this spring.

Meanwhile, Assessor John B. Byrne took out papers this week seeking re-election to a three year term.

Incumbent Town Clerk Ann Mahon and incumbent Treasurer-Collector Francis Coughlin previously had taken out papers seeking re-election for three years.

Myron Chace is seeking re-election to a five year term on the Housing Authority and Eugene Cancelliere has also taken out papers for the five year term.

Open Bids February 10

Advertising for bids for construction of the Stratton school addition appears in this week's addition of the News.

Sealed proposals will be received in the office of the Supt. of Schools, 23 Maple st., until 8 p.m., Feb. 10.

Bids will be publicly opened and read at 8:10 p.m. on the same date.

Filed sub-bids will be received at the Supt. of Schools' office, Feb. 3, until noon and opened at 12:10 p.m.

Two Win Area Prizes

Two Arlington Boys' Club members won second place honors in a Northeast Area Essay Contest.

Peter Watson, age 11 of the Cutter school placed second in the Junior division while Alan Wilayto, a Matignon student, did likewise in the intermediate class.

The subject of the essay was "Should the Driving Age Be Raised To Seventeen" and both boys had some definite opinions.

Peter felt that they should be allowed to drive at seventeen but that the law should be improved and more watchful parents would make for better teenage drivers.

Alan also expressed feelings toward stricter rules so that a teenager would know what to do in every incident and that ignorance might cost them their license or even their lives.

Transfers

The Finance Committee has announced the following transfers from the Reserve Fund: Public Welfare, Old Age Assistance, $11,528.32; Veterans Benefits, Aid and Assistance, $4,000 and Maintenance of Houses owned by the Town, $500.

Stock Split Four-for-One At Arlington National

At the annual meeting of the Arlington National Bank on Jan. 10, Karl E. Weiss, president, reported that 1965 was a year of "growth and progress" with deposits, loans, earnings and total resources reaching new highs.

The big news at the meeting was the announcement of a stock dividend in the form of a four-to-one stock split, pending the effective date of a certificate of approval to be issued by the Comptroller of the Currency.

This would also involve selling 1,500 new shares at $80 per share. Of the $120,000 thus realized, $37,500

Seven persons were treated at Symmes hospital and two others were to see their own doctors after three separate Arlington accidents over the weekend.

Five of the seven were treated after a two car accident at the intersection of Park ave. and Wachusett ave., Saturday afternoon.

Treated at Symmes were Generino A. Luongo, 53, 47 Pleasant st., Lexington, fractured right wrist; Elihu Petnov, 46, 73 Laconia st., Lexington, mouth injuries; Frances Petnov, 39, head and chin injuries; Judy Pethov, 15, left leg and mouth and Robert Petnov, 7, head injuries.

Complaining of head injuries and to see their own doctors were Eugene Luongo, 16, and Pat Luongo, 27, both of 47 Pleasant st., Lexington. Meanwhile, Julie Cammarata, 44, was treated at Symmes hospital by Dr. Sanchez for back, head and leg injuries, after a two-car accident, Jan. 7, at 8:17 a.m. at the intersection of the entrance to the Arlington Five Cents Savings parking lot and Pleasant st.

No Parking

The State Dept. of Public Works has approved an amendment of the Town's Traffic Rules and Orders as approved by the Board of Selectmen prohibiting parking on Chestnut ter.

On Monday at 3:15 p.m. 14 year old Carol Iannelli, 55 Lake st., Arlington, was treated at Symmes hospital by Dr. Sanchez for an injury to her left leg.

The Arlington teenager was involved in a car-pedestrian accident while she was crossing Mass. ave. in front of the Arlington National Bank building.

$200 Taken In Breaks

Nearly $200 was taken in breaks at two Arlington apartment buildings last week.

Police report that $82 in bills and $14 in silver dollars were stolen from chest drawers at the apartment of Mrs. Mancini, 140 Webster st., Jan. 6.

Meanwhile, on the following day, police received reports that $30 in bills and a suit coat valued at $25, had been taken from the Santeagate apartment, 8 Court st. place.

$75 was reportedly taken from the apartment of Mrs. Ethel Reid in the same building. In both cases, the money was taken from dresser drawers.

Harvard Trust Net Earnings On Rise

Harvard Trust Company reports net operating earnings for 1965 of $1,667,781 or $3.79 a share. This is an increase of 8.4 per cent over net operating earnings in 1964 of $1,539,029 or $3.50 a share.

At the year end total assets were $150,493,841 compared with $144,843,709 in 1964. Deposits were $127,197,791 against $119,432,565 last year. Loans increased to $84,595,588 compared with the 1964 figure of $78,238,696.

The capital accounts on December 31 totaled $13,901,545 or $31.50 a share, compared with $13,034,442 or $29.62 a share in 1964.

A sneak snowstorm, reaching nearly blizzard proportions, developed off the New England coast during the day Saturday and dumped between six and nine inches of snow on Arlington at a cost of $21,532.03 to the Town.

The first substantial snowfall of the season started off innocently enough early Saturday with temperatures above freezing. However, before noon things had changed, the temperature was dropping and the wind blowing stronger from the north and northwest, unusual directions during heavy snowfalls in this area.

Town Manager Edward C. Monahan told this paper that the official costs were tabulated from Saturday through Monday at 5 p.m. and included time and a half on Saturday and double-time on Sunday.

Plowing cost the town $9,254.52; snow removal added another $6,497.56; sanding and salting cost $4,122.48 and equipment maintenance cost another $1,657.47.

Monahan, in another breakdown of cost, explained that town labor cost $13,944.38, while hired equipment cost but $3,038.95. Sand and salt cost $2,709 while miscellaneous expenses added $1,839.70 to the total.

Twenty-five pieces of Town-owned equipment were pressed into service for plowing along with 11 pieces of contractors' equipment.

Snow removal also put into operation 25 pieces of town equipment and 17 pieces of contractors' equipment, including four tractors.

The heavy drifting snow abated Sunday morning after 22 hours.

Officials To Sit In On Rt. 2 Discussion Jan. 19

Selectmen, the Planning Board and representatives of civic organizations have been invited to attend a meeting of the Northwest Area Transportation Coordinating Committee to be held Jan. 19, at 8 p.m. at Estabrook Hall, Carey Building, (adjacent to Lexington Town Hall). This is not a public hearing.

Arlington is one of ten communities in the group, which is formed jointly by the Metropolitan Area Planning Council and the state D.P.W.

Commissioner Warner of the State will be present and the reconstruction of Route 2, particularly where it concerns the Spy Pond area is expected to be discussed.

Meanwhile, David D. Wallace, of the Arlington Committee for Improvement of Civic Design, appeared at the Selectmen's Chambers

Monday night and presented the Board members with some suggestions relative to the Spy Pond area. He is expected to be present at the meeting next week.

Close Bridge For Repairs

Repair work on the Park Avenue bridge will start Jan. 24 and is expected to take about two weeks to complete, Supt. of Public Works Francis E. O'Hara told this paper this week.

O'Hara stated that the work will consist of removing and replacing stringers in the bridge and the installation of new decking.

All areas will be posted by Jan. 17.

Total cost of construction is $7,000.

Cameron at Arrival of Immigrants

On hand to meet the M.S. Batory which arrived in Boston on Dec. 29, with 600 sponsored Polish immigrants was Red Cross volunteer Kenneth E. Cameron, 116 Jason st.

As Disaster Service Chairman of Arlington, he participated along with 80 Greater Boston volunteers in a 14-hour operation which provided hospitality, health services and food, at the request of the American National Red Cross.

Red Cross activities in support of the first immigrant ship to dock in Boston in 20 years included nursing services for mothers and infants; first aid; a hot meal; and box lunches for the journey by rail to points west. Hospitality was extended in the form of comfort items for the adults and friendship kits, packed by the Junior Red Cross, for all children.

Recapping the day-long events Cameron stated, "No one will ever be able to capture or record the many hundreds of isolated, fleeting events of service, assistance and help, that were extended throughout the day in the vast areas of the Commonwealth Pier. Suffice it to say, that veteran volunteers of the Boston Chapter described the operation as one of the most warm, human, emotional, and satisfying experiences of their service with Red Cross."

Residents Oppose Garage Construction

Selectmen Monday night tabled an application to construct a service station on the northerly side of Lowell st. in the Downing sq. sector.

Some thirty abutters and Town Meeting members appeared at the hearing with all but three in opposition to the construction.

John W. White told those present that he intended to construct a building on the land and operate the station himself.

Several residents spoke in opposition to the construction, including Town Meeting members Harry McCabe, Robert Lemos, Werner Carlson, Ronald McCall and William Carey.

Meeting members McCabe told those present that at the Dec. 6 meeting of the Board of Selectmen, Chairman Joseph P. Greeley had stated, and he quoted, "This is the most dangerous intersection in Arlington".

Some of the Town Meeting members stated that they appeared on their own behalf in opposition and also on behalf of residents who had called them.

Those who spoke in opposition to the construction of the garage noted the number of cars now using the area.

Harry McCabe called attention to the location of two churches in the area and said the area was "in chaos" on Sunday mornings.

McCabe also added that

THE Observer

How much do you know about Arlington?

Quickly now can you name one member of the Board of Selectmen, one Assessor, the Treasurer-Collector, three members of the School Committee, or a member of the Housing Authority?

And more — who is keeper of the lockup, inspector of milk, inspector of plumbing and gas, inspector of wires?

Uncle Sam's 200th birthday is but a short time away — next September to be exact.

Anyone like to make any wild "stabs" at the number of articles to be on this year's Warrant?

Generally, just from looking, this could be a quiet Town Meeting year, especially when one goes back to last year's Warrant, which was "loaded".

A year ago, there was the formation of the Revaluation Committee; the request for funds to construct a rink; raise requests; requests for funds for preliminary plans in connection with the construction of an addition to the Stratton school; request for the appointment of a Permanent Building and Survey Committee; and on and on.

We won't wait too long holding our breath this year for the big Town Meeting "bomb" because there seems to be none yet.

—And how close we are to that Town Election. Only a few hours or so over two weeks from now and all candidates must submit all nomination papers to the Registrars of Voters for certification of sigs.

Election Day is scheduled for March 5 — on a Saturday, don't forget.

The first Saturday election in the history of the Town last year brought out a record number of voters, but not a record high percentage of registered voters.

The 15,003 men and women of "Uncle Sam" Town who came out to vote March 6, last year shattered the old total record which was set in 1959.

However, last year's percentage was only 50.2 per cent, some three and one-half per cent short of the 1959 figure of 53.7 per cent.

Does only half the Town care enough?

The contest for Housing Authority, three years that is, has developed into a wide open affair with no less than six candidates have taken out papers.

Whether all will file before the deadline at the end of the month is something else again, but things look mighty interesting at the present time.

Of particular interest here is that four of the six candidates have last names beginning with "C".

In alphabetical order they are Cammarata, Cancelliere, Cantrell, and Coffey — and that's the way they will appear on the ballot.

Meanwhile, in the battle for three seats on the School Committee, it is now a four for three contest with incumbents

Talk Around Town

More than 259 children from Arlington were among the 50,000 infants and youngsters who received medical care at The Children's Hospital Medical Center, Boston during the 12 months which ended Sept. 30.

Senator Philibert Pellegri of Arlington will be among the Executive Councilors to be installed in the Italian-American Charitable Society, Inc., at ceremonies to be held at the Statler-Hilton Hotel, Boston, Jan. 18.

David J. Heaton, whose wife, Marilyn, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Zaccardo, 261 Hyde Park ave., Jamaica Plain, has been promoted to technical sergeant in the U.S. Air Force. He is a graduate of Arlington high school, and is the nephew of Mr. and Mrs. David Doyle, 47 Harlow st., Arlington.

Army 3rd Lt. Lindsay E. Collier, son of Mrs. Doris M. Collier, 208 Mystic st., recently participated in Exercise Victory Express, a nine day field maneuver in Germany. Collier is a platoon leader in the company near Hanau; he entered the Army in Sept., 1964.

There are 450 retailers, wholesalers and manufacturers in Arlington according to latest statistics as released by Dun and Bradstreet in their latest reference book.

Dr. Clair E. Turner of Arlington is among the trustees of Bates College. Members of this group held their annual mid-winter meeting, Jan. 7.

Gerhard B. Winkler, 19D Dudley st., was among the 17 Northeastern students recently initiated into Pi Tau Sigma, honor society of N.U.'s Dept. of Mechanical Engineering.

Navy Lt. Paul J. McKinnon, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. P. J. McKinnon, 11 Harlow st., has been awarded his sixth Air Medal, for combat flights over Vietnam, while serving with Attack Squadron 195 aboard the attack aircraft carrier USS Bon Homme Richard, currently operating with the Seventh Fleet.

Dr. Mary Carter and Arthur Coughlin seeking to win reelection against candidates Thomas Kenna and Dr. Paul Burke.

The School Committee race which used to be "sure thing" for the incumbents is no longer that.

Editorial

The Candidate

Every month of the year has a different meaning to different people.

So, comes January and it is the beginning of the big surge for the political candidate. For him, it is the busiest, most important time of each year, three years or five years depending on whether the candidate for public office is seeking election for one-three or five years.

This is his life, his very existence is wrapped up in "getting that big vote" in March.

But for the average person, January is much like any other month and February and March blend into April and May as the snow and cold disappear and springs moves into focus.

Comes March and possibly the last two weeks in February, and many of these average citizens suddenly realize there is an election at hand.

Many find out through the press, others through literature circulated by the many office-seekers and still others through door to door contact with the would-be town office holders.

But how much actually is absorbed by the average "guy"?

The job of the man seeking public office today is certainly a thankless one. In the first place he must attract the attention of a public, a large percentage of which could care less.

His is a "big, big" selling job. If he is an incumbent, many recognize his name on the ballot from previous years or from seeing him at various functions throughout the year.

APATHY HURTS

As a result, he has probably made an impression, or at least a recognition, and the vote will go to the name most well recognized.

On the other hand the incumbent could lose some votes, because in some cases he has not made a good impression or because he has been in office too long (some think).

But generally, the incumbent can be certain of a large number of votes simply because he is the incumbent — this thought varies from between 1,000 and 2,000 votes.

The new office seeker however, has the rougher "selling job".

First of all, he must pick up enough votes to overcome the "incumbent vote" already existing for the incumbent.

Lock Broken

The hasp and lock were torn off, and the door frame damaged in the rear door of Audiosonics, 184 Mass. ave., Jan. 7, according to Arlington police.

BIRTH

Dr. and Mrs. Robert A. Provost, Jr. (Cynthia Hutchinson) announce the birth of their third child, second son, David Collins, Jan. 8.

Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Hutchinson of Watertown and Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Provost of 25 Parker st., Arlington.

To Serve on Jury

Carl A. Thoren, 8 Cliff st., has been selected to serve at the Civil Session at Lowell beginning Feb. 7.

Culvert

Selectmen Monday night voted to have an article inserted in the Town Warrant requesting $55,000 in connection with a culvert to be placed from the easterly property line of the high school westerly to Grove st.

Total length will be 1429 feet and total cost of the project will be $111,000.

The culvert will be in the form of a five by seven foot corrugated pipe arch.

Half the cost of construction will come from funds voted by the Legislature in 1964. The sum of $125,000 has been earmarked for Arlington.

Meanwhile, Selectman Joseph P. Greeley read a letter from Town Planner Harry Miller stating that he hoped the Board would hold in abeyance the request to install the culvert at this time because of long range plans which he has in connection with the entire Mill Brook Valley section.

Babson Discusses OUR CANADIAN NEIGHBORS Exclusive News Feature

Babson Park, Mass., January 13. At the moment, relations between the United States and Canada are fairly cordial... diplomatically as well as economically. Yet there are stubborn problems facing our two nations whose common unfortified border extends for nearly 4000 miles.

IMPROVING TRADE RELATIONS

Both Canada and the United States have lately been making fairly substantial progress in lowering troublesome tariffs. Thus they have opened the way to a freer flow of trade between the two countries. However, the situation is still far from ideal; common sense dictates that we continue to explore ways and means of securing closer economic co-operation.

In an age which, for all its promise, is still fraught with dangers and uncertainties, Canada and the United States must — for their mutual benefit and protection — strengthen by every possible means the historic, cultural, and economic ties that have always joined them.

CANADA'S VULNERABLE POSITION

At times the U.S. shows signs of irritation because, in some instances, Canada seems to be holding back in the matter of liberalizing tariff policies. There is a feeling among some Americans that Canada is dragging her heels, either because of excess nationalism or out of "sheer cussedness." A greater awareness of Canada's position in world trade would convince these pessimists that Canada is proceeding slowly toward freer trade with the U.S. ... simply because she must.

If we took the trouble to learn more about Canada and what makes her tick economically, we would discover that she has an enormous stake in foreign trade. Her position, in fact, is vulnerable because she is more dependent on exports and imports than any other nation in a comparable world position. But the importance of foreign trade to the individual Canadian is not even appreciated, much less understood, here in the United States. Though the U.S. has ten times the population of Canada and we carry on a vastly greater internal and external business, imports and exports are of far less consequence to the individual American than to the individual Canadian. The large stake of the Canadian in his foreign trade limits his ability to take risks in trade negotiations.

CHANCES OF ECONOMIC UNION

From time to time in this century there have been — both in Canada and in the United States — strong advocates of economic union. Such a union would provide complete elimination of tariff barriers between the two nations. It would also provide for a common currency and a common treasury. One of the best arguments in favor of economic union is that it would relieve Canadians of the necessity of ranging far afield to find markets for their products. It would also greatly stimulate the flow of U.S. capital into Canada.

But there will be no economic union between Canada and the U.S. any time soon. It would not be a practical move now, simply because neither Canadians nor Americans are psychologically ready for it. One day there will be such an economic union; but before that time comes, a better foundation must be laid.

NORTH AMERICAN COMMON MARKET

While strong tides of nationalism — on both sides — will delay economic union between the U.S. and Canada, the idea of closer business co-operation will not be permitted to die. Competent officials and business leaders of the two nations are constantly studying this whole relationship. The first big step toward such union could well be taken before very long.

Look for the formation of a North American Common Market by 1970 ... sooner if Britain joins the European Common Market before then, thus leaving Canada out in the cold. Such an economic alliance between Canada and the U.S. will help mightily in the development of Canadian resources ... and will also work to the benefit of the U.S.

A.C.H.S. Stays With Leaders; Burnsmen Roll On

Arlington high school's G.B.I. loop co-leader moved closer to its "must" game with Newton a week from Saturday with a 6-1 victory over Waltham last week.

"The Watch City" entry gave Arlington some first period trouble, with neither team being able to dent the nets.

But the second stanza was something else again as Arlington scored no less than five times as they peppered the Waltham net with rubber.

Steve Donnelly was the big gun for Arlington in this canto as he twice hit the drapes.

Donnelly scored the first goal shortly after the start of the period, and in less than a minute's time Glen Hale moved Arlington ahead 2-0.

Fifty-five seconds later Donnelly scored again and Arlington led 3-0.

Tommy Walsh moved Arlington out front 4-0 and high-scoring Dick Havern added the final Arlington goal of the period just before the period ended.

Glen Hale added his second goal of the game and the sixth and final marker for the G.B.I. champs in the last period.

Dom Apprille, the third member of this Arlington family to hold forth in the Arlington nets in the past decade, lost his shutout in the final period when Ed Bastrache went from one end of the ice to the other to score the only Waltham goal.

Clippers In 4-3 Victory

The St. Agnes Clippers were winners over St. Mary's of Winchester 4-3 last week at the B.C. rink. Ken Diskin picked up a loose puck early in the first period and scored to put his team out in front.

St. Mary's scored twice before the period ended and carried a 2-1 lead into the second period.

In the second period the Clippers tied the game as Richard Butler passed to Bobby Dwyer who sent a high shot into the corner of the net for a 2-2 tie.

A 35-foot slap shot by Charlie Harrington put the Clippers ahead 3-2.

Jeff Guiney scored the final Clipper tally midway in the third period with Ken Diskin getting the assist.

The St. Mary's coach used six forwards in the last minutes to try and even the score but the Clipper net minder turned several hard shots to save the game.

McKenzie and Glennon split the goal tending duties.

Sports Sidelines

Arlington and Newton, with long unbeaten strings going for them in G.B.I. competition, were defeated Saturday. However, it doesn't count in the standings, because seniors were taking college board exams and the games played between sophomores and juniors from the G.B.I. schools.

Hats off to Michigan State, which in this corner is still champ despite its recent loss to a "fired-up" U.C.L.A. team in the Rose bowl on New Year's Day.

A year ago, Alabama was rate No. 1 going into the bowl season, lost, but was still to be considered the top team on the basis of its performance during the regular season.

This season, Alabama finished fourth in the National ranking, but was then declared the top team on the basis of results in bowl tilts.

This writer for one feels that polls of top teams and top players are "for the birds" anyway.

Where did Texas A. and I. finish in the National ratings?

—And who is Rand Johnson of that team?

Anyone interested in football should know after the bowl tilts.

Basketball competition is off to a flying start at three levels in the Park Dept. with contests under way in the Adult Division, the High School level and at the Grammar School age.

The missing note here though is that there is no organized competition here at the Junior High level.

No interest, lack of gymnasium space, or what is the reason?

The Annual Elks football banquet was a success as usual, Saturday night as Arlingtonians turned out in large numbers.

Jimmy Colclough, recently traded to the Jets by the Patriots was the guest speaker.

Johnny Deveaux was presented an award as the outstanding football player on last fall's club at A.H.S.

The St. Agnes Clippers failed to hold leads on three separate occasions Sunday and as a result lost their second game of the season by one goal to Incarnation of Melrose.

Ronan and Dwyer lifted the Arlington team into a 2-0 first period lead as the Melrose team failed to score. Incarnation knotted the count in the second period, but a goal by Tony Lyons gave Arlington a short-lived lead in the same period.

Melrose tied the score again late in the second period, but Lyons again moved Arlington in front early in the final stanza.

However, Melrose surged back with two late goals for the victory.

Arlington high school's high powered freshmen hockey team battled back to a 1-1 tie against Brookline, Saturday, after scoring an earlier win over Medford 6-2.

Brookline scored early in the game and then held off the Arlington attack until Art Boghosian scored on a pass from Art Quinlan in the final minute of play.

Tony Lyons scored two first period goals in the frosh win over Medford last week with Quinlan adding two in the second period.

Art Boghosian scored for Arlington in the second period and Pete Flanagan added the final tally in the final period.

To the editor:
I was delighted to read in a recent issue of the paper that Dr. Robert Burke was going to run for election to the Arlington School committee. He would make an excellent successor to Dr. Richard Baker, who is resigning after ten years of dedicated service.

It is gratifying to find that when one capable Arlingtonian feels the need to step down, there is always another ready to pick up the challenge.

I've known Bob Burke for many years and know him to be an earnest and public spirited citizen. As the father of four children, he will certainly be eager to help retain the fine school system we have in Arlington.

ACHS Hoopsters Win Twice

Arlington Catholic's basketball team rolled to its third straight win of the season by winning two games over the past weekend.

The locals romped over St. Mary's of Lynn, 78-54, Friday night, and then had a "big day" at the foul line Sunday to edge past Marion high of Framingham, 73-67, Sunday.

The Arlington club won the latter contest minus the services of Capt. Steve Dooley.

Catholic jumped out front of St. Mary's with a 17 point first period and then carried a 15 point lead into the second half of the contest.

This margin was increased to 21 points in the third period and then to 24 at games end.

The locals put on a tremendous exhibition of foul shooting in the Marion game, hitting 35 of 45 shots from the free throw line.

Fred Martucci hit 14 for 14 from the free throw line and ended up with 22 points for the game.

Arlington trailed 13-10 at the end of the first period, but roared back with 24 points in the second period. The locals went into the dressing room at half time with an eight point bulge.

Marion rallied in the third period to tie the score at 48-48.

With time running out the score was 67-67, but Arlington ran off six quick points, including four from the foul line to ice the verdict.

Seaman Apprentice Francis J. Dailey, USCG, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Dailey of 97 Robbins rd., has completed eight week of basic training at the Coast Guard Recruit Training Center, Cape May, New Jersey.

Basic training prepares recruits for duty in the Coast Guard, and helps them to adjust to military life.

He was taught military drill, small boat handling, use of small arms, firefighting, seamanship, first aid and Coast Guard history and traditions. He also received an introduction to maritime law enforcement.

Arlington Catholic's hockey team kept pace with the front running clubs Sunday, blanking Sacred Heart 4-0 for its fifth win of the season.

Both Matignon and Xavier, the two clubs ahead of the local team in the standings also won.

Arlington plays a big game Sunday when it entertains fourth place Xavierian, a club which is improving fast and is only a step behind ACHS.

In Sunday's contest, Arlington scored in all three periods with Larry Babine tallying the first marker at 2:36 of the opening period. McDonald picked up an assist on this goal.

Bobby Shea scored unassisted at the 7:20 mark and Catholic led 2-0 at the end of the first stanza.

Coleman put the third place club out front 3-0 late in the second period and McDonald tallied the final Arlington marker at 2:05 of the final period.

there are already 16 service stations in the general area. William Carey also pointed out the congestion in the area particularly in the morning.

Ronald McCall added his name to the list of opponents and also called for a police officer at the intersection of Mass. ave. and Park ave.

Robert Lemos, also in opposition, noted the difficulty in obtaining a woman training supervisor to work in the area.

Town Meeting member Werner Carlson also explained that he was opposed to the request.

Selectman Greeley explained that the Board of Selectmen was very strict in granting such licenses and added that there could be no repairing or loud noises at such a service station.

One woman favoring the request stated that cars are already parked along the street and that the land is vacant and no use at the present time.

The request for license reads as follows:

"Hearing on the application of John W. and Edmond H. White for a license to use the parcel of land situated on the northerly side of Lowell street (#93), on which a one story building of second class construction, is to be situated thereon, as shown upon plan submitted, for use as a public filling and service station, and for the storage, keeping and sale in and from underground tanks of volatile inflammable fluid of 10,000 gallons capacity; with four pumps; of waste oil of 500 gallons capacity; of fuel oil of 500 gallons capacity; for the storage, keeping and sale in and from aboveground containers of lubricating oils, anti-freeze mixtures and other petroleum products of 1,500 gallons capacity; and to occupy and use the building for the storage and keeping of two (2) motor vehicles and the gasoline and other oils contained therein; all in accordance with the provisions of Chapter 148 of the General Laws."

"Enter The Comics"

Dr. Ellen P. Wiese, the curator of the Robbins print collection housed in the Robbins Library, is the editor, translator, and author of the introduction of a new book entitled, "Enter The Comics," Rodolphe Topffer's Essay on Physiognomy and the true story of Monsieur Crepin. It was issued at the end of November by the University of Nebraska Press and is remarkable for its authentic and lighthearted presentation of the origins of both the comics and the basic techniques of cinema.

Monsieur Topffer, a teacher in the Academy of Geneva in Switzerland, amused himself in his spare time with doodles of a superior type in which, almost to his own surprise, he discovered a highly effective means of communication—the picture story. Encouraged by no less a genius than Goethe, into whose hands some of Topffer's visual narratives fell, the Swiss schoolmaster continued to pioneer in a medium which was later to have incalculable results, both trivial and important.

Wiese tells Topffer's story and she includes in the volume a translation of the artist's own description and assessment of the new medium. She also includes one of his picture stories with drawings and captions. Published in 1837, it is called "The True Story of Monsieur Crepin," and is an hilarious spoof of mumbo-jumbo educational techniques.

Miss Wiese, born in Springfield, was educated at the Northfield School for Girls, received her A.B. from Wellesley College and Ph.D. in Fine Arts from Harvard University, where she studied under Jakob Rosenberg of Arlington.

For two years, she was a Fulbright scholar in Paris, doing research on "Source Problems in Manet's Early Painting," the subject of her doctoral dissertation.

Since 1961, she has been curator of the Robbins print collection, and has charge of the general management of the collection, including organization, acquisition, and the arrangement of print shows in the Robbins Gallery.

New Design

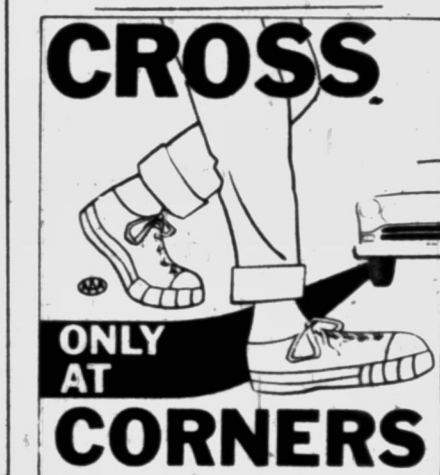

Imagine a telephone created exactly to your specifications. With one piece of equipment you can dial, talk, listen, and redial. Trimline is now available from New England Telephone Company. It's the brainchild of telephone users throughout the country.

The dial-in-handset Trimline offers a revolutionary new look in telephone design. It has been recognized for its design excellence by New York's Museum of Modern Art, which selected it for the Design Collection. This is the first time that a telephone has become a part of this world-famous collection.

With the Trimline phone, the caller brings the dial to himself. A recall button located beneath the dial clears the line between calls so they can be made one after the other without reaching to hang up.

There's no base to balance in your lap because the base of the phone can remain tucked away under a shelf even while the phone is in use. Grip "feet" prevent it from slipping or sliding.

The handset rests in the palm of the hand instead of being gripped like a standard handset.

Measles can cause mental retardation. Now, for the first time, you can protect your child against measles and its serious complications, with a new vaccine.

You don't think of plain, ordinary measles as a dangerous disease. And, fortunately, it usually isn't. However, sometimes measles causes encephalitis or inflammation of the brain. When this happens, there is a chance of permanent damage to a child's brain.

Today, measles with all its devastating side effects can be completely prevented by a new vaccine. Unprotected children will get measles 95 times out of 100. You got them, didn't you?

Don't take the chance of measles meaning mental retardation for your child. Visit your doctor or clinic. Make sure your child gets the measles vaccine at the earliest time recommended by your doctor.

There are other safeguards against mental retardation. You should know about them. So write for a free booklet to The President's Committee on Mental Retardation, Washington, D.C.

Musical Societies, the paper given by Mrs. Jeremy Coulter, illustrated that music, in its many forms is helping to create international understanding between people all over the world.

Mrs. Robert Mezoff was hostess for the Jan. 11 meeting. Papers read were "World Council of Churches", by Mrs. Neils Alsen and "Religious Programs", by Mrs. Malcolm Griffin.

This month the Arlington League of Women Voters is concentrating on a national item — "The evaluation of policies and programs in the U.S., to provide for all people, equality of opportunity in education and employment."

On Jan. 6, at the Robbins Junior Library hall, four speakers discussed their work in a panel entitled, "What's the Score in the Poverty War?" James Taylor, a special worker, described the problems of a low-income community; Jay Jackson, a Boston University student, reported views of his experiences as a tutor of children and summer tutoring of migrant Puerto Ricans under the auspices of the Commonwealth Service Corps.

Also, Jerry Hearsom, one of twelve VISTA workers in Boston, gave a first-hand portrait of working at the Boston State hospital with mentally disturbed people; and Gail Donovan, of Arlington, a High School teacher, spoke of a special program for urban teaching in Roxbury.

The committee prepared and mailed copies of a report, "A Survey of Arlington's Public Welfare, Employment, Education, Recreation, Housing, Civil Rights and Social Action," to all League members, and has others available upon request.

Next week at four unit meetings, there will be a presentation and discussion on this topic.

The meetings will be held on Tuesday, Jan. 18, 9:15 a.m. at the home of Mrs. Daniel Healy, 36 Jason st.; Wednesday, Jan. 19, 8 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Richard MacDougall, 366 Ridge st.; Thursday, Jan. 20, 9:15 a.m. at the home of Mrs. Robert Lynch, 7 Adams st.; and Thursday, Jan. 20, 8 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Robert McCloskey, 243 Pleasant st.

The members of the Human Resources committee are Miss Doris Atwater, Mrs. Earl Bolton, Mrs. Sherwood Gorbach, Mrs. Howard Grant, Mrs. Irwin Jacobs, Mrs. Peter Margarita, Mrs. Richard Mela, Mrs. Paul McCarthy, Mrs. George Rogers, Mrs. Dietmar Seyferth, and Mrs. Bernard Kleban, chairman.

Girl Scouts

Troop 4 at Dallin School enjoyed an interesting day on Nov. 11. After participating in the Veteran's Day parade, these Junior Scouts held a progressive dinner party. The first course was served at the home of Troop 4's leader, Mrs. R. Gerrold. Next, the girls marched to Mrs. H. Tomasuden's home for the main course. Desert was served at Mrs. A. Fago's home. A record hop ended Troop's busy day. This troop is currently working for the Toymaker badge by making toys for needy children.

On Nov. 7, at Holy Cross Cathedral in Boston, Marian Medals were awarded to the St. Agnes Cadette scouts, including Sheila Carney, Roberta Bruun, Margaret Pacheo, Margaret Powers, Diane Ferretti and Kathleen Scully. Mrs. John Carney served as Marian Advisor to the scouts.

A senior Girl Scout troop is currently being organized at Arlington High school. Assisting with this endeavor are Evelyn Smith and Kathie Roper, former Round-up Scout from Arlington.

Thanksgiving, tray favors for Symmes hospital were made by Mrs. Puopolo's troop of Stratton school. Christmas favors were provided by Troop 27 of Brackett school.

New Year's favors were made by Mrs. Vossmer and Mrs. Marino's troop from St. James.

Troop 9, Brackett School held its Investiture on Dec. 7 with its leaders, Mrs. Cusolito and Mrs. Richards. Eleven girls became members and ten girls received membership stars.

Cadette and Senior scouts held a splash party at the Boys club on Dec. 4. In addition to swimming, the girl scouts enjoyed games and songs. Troop 64 of St. James, as part of the preparation for social dependability challenge, planned the party and served refreshments. Mrs. P. Greeley, neighborhood chairman, coordinated the affair. Chaperones were Mrs. Downey, Mrs. Horne, Mrs. Hanson, Mrs. Vanaskie, Mrs. Perkins, Mrs. Anderson and Mrs. Keenan.

On Dec. 1, Troop 37 with leaders, Mrs. Broderick and Mrs. Falwell, entertained Troop 40 at a party in St. James school. Troop 37 planned and conducted this event as a requirement for their Hospitality Badge.

Early in December, Mrs. Edgar's Brownie Troop of Bishop School held an Investiture ceremony. Parents were invited and refreshments served. Girl Scout leaders, Mrs. P. Greeley and Mrs. J. Keenan also attended.

Christmas gift boxes were distributed to the nursing home patients in Arlington by the Arlington Girl Scouts.

Hardy Show

Hardy school pupils were treated to a hilarious magic show featuring Walter Childs from Middleboro, Mass., on Dec. 21. Childs is President of the Society of American Magicians and has performed at the World's Fair, on the Major Mudd show and at many leading hotels and inns.

Because of the large attendance of children, two shows were given. Both shows were enjoyed by a captive audience of pupils and teachers. The participation of members of the audience in the various acts added fun and success to the magic shows.

This show, along with the Christmas Party, was the PTA's gift to the Hardy children. Santa Claus was an added attraction for the kindergarten, first and second grade pupils. The Christmas party was handled by the Children's Activities committee, headed by Mrs. Edward S. Rutkowski and Mrs. Speros Roussinows.

Refreshments were served to the children by the room mothers, assisted by board members.

During his career with the Internal Revenue Service, he served as an instructor; chief of Processing Division; inspector of Internal Security. In 1955, he was appointed assistant chief, Delinquent Accounts and Returns Branch. He held that position until promoted to chief of DAR Branch in 1959, from which position he retired.

Three Assemblies

Three assemblies were necessary to make possible the participation of all students at Arlington High School in the annual Christmas programs. The freshmen had one, the seniors and part of the juniors another, and the sophomores and the rest of the juniors a third. The programs consisted of both traditional and modern Christmas music, with a different program at each assembly.

Featured in the various programs were the Girls' Glee club, the Girls' choir, the mixed chorus, the school orchestra and the Harmonettes. David Nau was master of ceremonies for the freshmen assembly; John Deveau, for the senior assembly; and John DeVries, for the sophomore assembly. At each assembly, the student body joined in singing two groups of the most popular of the Christmas carols, Austrian, French, German, Spanish, Hungarian, and English carols were among the numbers presented, ranging from Handel's "Hallelujah Chorus" to the English folk song, "We Wish You a Merry Christmas."

Solo parts were offered by Dawn Kelly, Jean MacFadyen, Eric Sampson, Paul McGregor, Linda Silva, Donna Poitras and Alma MacFadyen. The orchestra played a stirring rendition of LeRoy Anderson's "Sleigh Ride".

Accompanists for the various groups included Barbara Truelson, Judith Honsey, Nancy Urquhart, Nancy Truelson and Carol Zaloga.

Highlighting the programs were two numbers sung by the popular Harmonettes at each assembly, "The Christmas Song" by Torme-Wells, and the old folk song "Jingle Bells" in a special arrangement. This group featured a triple trio, differing from the original six voices and the more recent twelve voices. The Harmonettes include Marie Abruzzese, Pamela Macy, and Jean MacFadyen as first sopranos; Cindi Meo, Alma MacFadyen and Dawn Kelly as second sopranos; and Janyce Truelson, Ellen Keane and Lee Poitras as altos.

The programs were conducted by Richard Laman and Richard McElhiney of the music department, and were arranged under the guidance of L. Hassler Einzig, supervisor of music.

James F. Crain of 5 Freemont st., Lexington, has been appointed division accounting manager for New England Telephone's North division, at 30 Mystic st.

Crain's previous assignment was district plant superintendent in Quincy. He was previously with the company's public relations department in Boston.

Many communities now have pedestrian control laws. Cross at corners only and observe the signs and signals. However, motorists are cautioned to give pedestrians the right of way even if they are in error.

E. LILLIAN EVANS

Funeral services for Miss E. Lillian Evans, conducted by Dr. Stuart A. Haskins, pastor of the Pleasant Street church, were held on Jan. 4, at Saville chapel.

Miss Evans died suddenly on Jan. 1, stricken with a heart attack in her apartment at 100 Pleasant st. She was born in Boston, the daughter of the late Harrison and Emma H. Evans. She attended the Boston schools, graduating from Boston Girls' Latin, after which she accepted a position with the M. T. Bird and Company, Stationers in Boston.

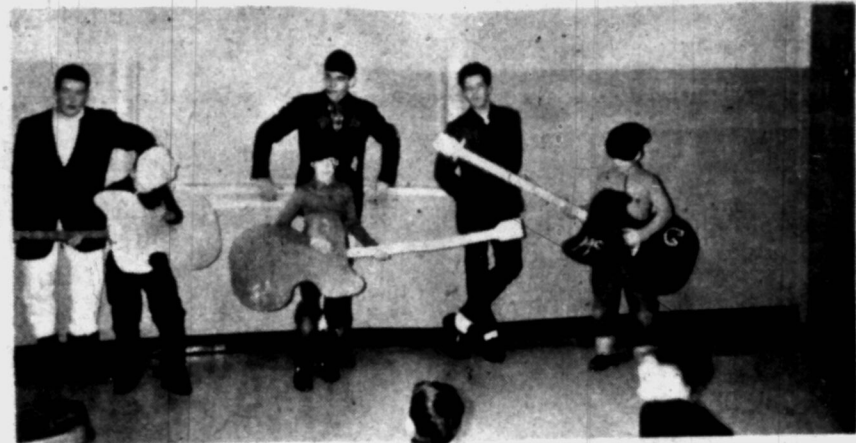

The family established a home on Lakeview in Arlington in 1920, becoming active in Town affairs. Miss Evans, with Mrs. Foster, established the Shoppe Unique on Mass. ave., which she managed until the business was purchased by Mrs. Catherine Callahan, when Miss Evans became manager of the Treasure Chest, owned by Mrs. Arthur Mansfield, now Touraine.

Her avocation was a concert soprano soloist, as well as church singer. She was soloist for 13 years at Crawford Memorial church, Winchester, followed by 7 years at the Baptist church, Winchester. Her last singing position was at the local First Baptist church.

Secretaries Meet

First Baptist

With the 1965-1966 season directly at the half way point, First Baptist church has opened a big lead for top honors in the Union Church Bowling Ass'n of Arlington.

Al Porteus has been the chief cog in this sport by First Baptist, as his league-leading average has now soared to 107.4. If continued, this would break all existing league records.

Incidentally, All holds the retired league record of 381 for a three-string total, which he bowled 14 years ago in 1952. With the advent of plastic pins instead of the wooden pins, the league retired all existing records in 1962.

Rounding out the top Baptist team are Art Wyse, 104.2; Bobby Dolham, 103.3; Bob McSorley, 102.0; Bob Porteus, 101.0; and Cliff Worth, 99.3.

The Heights Methodist and Pleasant Street entries are currently fighting it out for second place. Just behind them are three teams fighting for first division honors, namely Union, DeMolay and the Baptist Mens' club. Presently trying to avoid the cellar are Calvary Methodist and Park Avenue Congregational.

Bob Nichols currently holds the high three-string total and Dave Foote recently hit 141, for a high single string. Trying to catch Al Porteus for high season average are Bob Moore, Bob Nichols, Ralph Bates and Art Wyse.

Following a pot luck supper meeting at the High School last Monday evening, William Gibbs, Business Manager and IBM Coordinator for the Arlington Public schools, presented an IBM demonstration for 28 school secretaries.

Georgia Doherty, secretary at the high school, assisted Gibbs in the "daily attendance-taking procedure" from the beginning to the resulting attendance bulletin which is given each teacher in the high school every morning. Other aspects of the IBM, such as programming were explained and every secretary had an opportunity to use the key punch machine.

This was the second fall meeting of the Arlington Association of Educational Secretaries. Grace Stafford, high school, was chairman of the supper. Officers of the Ass'n include, president, Marie McCulloch, administration officer; vice-pres., Nellie Fisher, Wallin school; secretary, Patricia Costley, Guidance office, High School; and treasurer, Margaret Kelliher, Crisby school.

Stratton School at Christmas

On Wednesday, Dec. 22, parents were invited to attend the Stratton school Christmas program planned by teachers and youngsters. Linda Campbell and Douglas Jefferson were program announcers. The kindergarten classes recited a poem "Waiting" and sang "Santas Helpers" and "Christmas Eve", accompanied by Miss Forbes playing the guitar.

First graders sang "Christmas Lullaby" and three other songs, accompanied by Miss Lane and Miss Fifield. Second graders sang "Christmas and Wind Through the Olive Trees" accompanied by Mrs. Britt.

Third graders played "Joy to the World", on their flutes and sang "Seven Joys of Christmas", accompanied by Miss Fifield and Miss Med-zorian.

Fourth graders sang "Go Tell it on the Mountain", "Bom, Bom, Bom", "Pinata", accompanied by Mrs. Britt.

Fifth graders sang "Il est ne" and "Bells". They also presented a skit, "Santa Claus for President". The cast included Arlene Deeb, Fred Burke, Betsy Berndt, Nancy Doherty, Judy Pur-

Two Prints at Robbins

A Picasso print has entered the Robbins Print Collection over the Christmas holiday. The most important purchase of 1965, this representation of a bull in a meadow will be hanging in the art gallery of the Robbins main library through the month of January.

It was conceived as one of a set of thirty-one illustrations that Picasso did for the Volland edition of Buffon's "Natural History", published in 1942, and reveals the artist in a mood of exuberant naturalism. Landscape, plants and the shape and substance of the animal himself are fully recognizable — even his temper. Picasso has handled his medium, a combination of etching and aquatint, with characteristic virtuosity, and his achievement is striking in this particular proof. The Robbins print was pulled very early and appeared separately, before the bound copies of the book itself. It is there-

DRAKE VILLAGE

The annual Christmas Party of the Drake Village Association was held in the Community Building Dec. 20th.

In a moment of hushed silence the lights were dimmed and a spotlight played on the Christmas tree, while Mrs. Katherine Kelley gave a fine rendition of "O Holy Night," "The First Noel" and "Silent Night."

Lending an air of merriment to the occasion, Santa Claus then appeared, played by Mr. and Mrs. Henry Mills in distributing the gifts.

AHS Science Club — of Many Projects

One of the most interesting, if not the largest clubs at Arlington High is the science club, and adults have been amazed at the breadth and depth of the interests of its members. It is really three clubs in one, for as in the real world of science, the subject is so broad no one person can comprehend all of it. There are about 75 members this year.

The major club was started in 1958 under the leadership of Everett Reed and Richard Coombs, who have since left Arlington High for other positions. It caught on quickly, and, in the intervening years, members have won many awards at both Regional and State Science Fairs. At the present time, the radio section and biological and physical science sections are led by Mr. Donald J. Manning, and the earth science section by Mr. Harry A. Meserve, both members of the science department faculty.

The main club has for a number of years produced a science fair which has drawn the attention of many grown-ups as well as students. The breadth of interests has been really amazing, and has included such fields as a three dimensional graph, a digital computer, wind tunnels, an amazing collection of mollusks, an experiment in nuclear magnetic resonance, and other fields in which most parents have no idea their children know so much. Club meetings usually deal with experiments, demonstrations, discussions and films of general or specific interests.

Among the club members who have won regional and state awards in the past few years have been George Buckley and George Smith in 1965, and in previous years, William Holland, John Nubian, John Alderson, John Howell, James Sprinkle, and Eric Sonnichen.

Present officers of the biological and physical science section are Norman Berube, pres.; Clifton Jay, vice-pres.; Steven McLean, treas.; and Jean Matheson, sec. In the radio section, David Tannozini is pres.; Robert Kalustian vice-pres.; and Philip Littlefield, sec.-treas.

The earth science section of the club, an offshoot of the main club, is a live-wire group. The group started activities in 1963 in an effort to give freshman earth science students an opportunity to expand their class work. Their activities have included many outside activities such as car washes and cake sales to raise funds for field trips. These field trips have included visits to three mines in New Hampshire, where rocks were collected and identified; the Science Museum, mining areas in Massachusetts; as well as trips to Maine and the North Shore to study oceanographic as well as mineral matters of interest.

The club has built its own operating miniature volcano, and has assembled several small one-mile range rockets. They also maintain their own fresh and salt water aquariums. Future plans include a tour of the Boston University oceanographic section and a talk by a guest speaker from the Federal Geological Survey Team.

This section of the club, while the youngest, contains about half the membership, and is growing and active. Officers this year include, George Murphy, pres.; Charles Brennecke, vice-pres.; Joanne Abruzzese, sec.; and Kathleen Forest, treas. If a boy or girl has any interest whatever in science, one or another of these branches of the science club will provide ample opportunity for an outlet, and grown-ups will spend one of the most interesting and informative afternoons or evenings of their lives if they will visit the science fair which will be held in the early spring at the high school.
